MESSAGES

The holiday season is here, we know the pandemic is not over yet, but we are turning a corner and this will be a joy-filled holiday where we can once again hug our families and spend time with our loved ones. This year, we need to keep spreading that love and support to our local businesses who have endured so many challenges through COVID.

The Town of Newmarket is very happy to continue our partnership with the Chamber of Commerce on our Choose Local initiative. I am so proud of our business community for their continued innovation and determination.

Visit our Choose Local shopping directory at newmarket.ca/ChooseLocalDirectory to find hundreds of homegrown businesses that need our support. I am always so inspired and humbled by the big heart of this community and all of the truly amazing people who call Newmarket home.

On behalf of Newmarket Council and staff, we wish you and your family all the best for a very safe, happy and healthy holiday season and a year ahead filled with hope, promise and opportunity.

Sincerely,

John Taylor
Mayor
Town of Newmarket

There's so much talk about supply shortages these days. From toys to automotive parts and even the paper this is printed on—reduced supplies, fewer drivers and nightmare logistics have tossed our regular supply chain up in the air. Throw in the biggest shopping time of the year, and you've got shortages.

Our suggestion? Choose Newmarket.

Everyday actions of support like shopping and dining local help this community thrive, and they enable businesses to contribute to it in the best possible ways. We, as a collective, get to enjoy great arts and culture, sports, and events. When you need a hand up, it's available. Many Newmarket businesses help with all of that through their support.

We're proud to partner with the Town of Newmarket on this special Choose Newmarket magazine which features just some of the fantastic businesses you'll find here. It's part of a larger initiative designed to get us all thinking and choosing local. Visit us on Facebook and Instagram to discover more businesses, get great gifts ideas and more.

All my best,

Chris Emanuel

TREAT YOURSELF

Wherever you are in town, a great beverage is close by. Here are five to try

What it is: Winter Fog

Where you'll find it: Cardinal Press Espresso Bar, 222 Main St. S.

Why you'll love it: One of Cardinal's signature drinks, a Winter Fog adds milk frothed hot chocolate to peppermint tea. Think peppermint hot chocolate without the excess sugars and syrups.

What it is: Matcha Latte

Where you'll find it: The Fresh Tea Shop, 262 Main St. S.

Why you'll love it: If you're new to matcha (stoneground green tea leaves), this smooth and creamy drink is a great introduction. It's made with organic ceremonial matcha (the highest grade available), and the steamed milk of your choice (The Fresh Tea Shop offers regular milk, as well as oat, soy and coconut).

What it is: Oat Milk Latte with Chai Sprinkles

Where you'll find it: My Indie Coffee, 17817 Leslie St. #7

Why you'll love it: Featuring My Indie Coffee's Signature Roast organic coffee blend and its Minor Figures Oat milk with chai infused cinnamon sprinkles, this drink hits the spot!

What it is: Mocha

Where you'll find it: This Little Cafe (TLC), Magna Centre

Why you'll love it: Featuring the tasty combo of hot chocolate and espresso, this drink has become a fast favourite for parents stopping by This Little Cafe (TLC), a newly-opened snack spot that also serves up delicious hot and cold bevies.

What it is: Art Latte

Where you'll find it: Amadeus Patisserie, Market & Co. (Upper Canada Mall)

Why you'll love it: Both a feast for the eyes and taste buds, this pretty drink is the perfect pick-me-up after a day of shopping. Craving something sweet to go with it? Amadeus offers a sweet selection of baked pastries, tarts and more.

GEAR UP FOR OUTDOORS

There's something magical about the early days of wintery weather—when morning frost lightly blankets the town and light snow flurries fill the air at the most unexpected moments. It's enough to make even the most vocal opponents of winter a little appreciative, at least momentarily.

The key to keeping that feeling going throughout the big chill? Bundle up, embrace the cold and get out and have fun!

WARM AND STYLISH? CHECK!

UpTop Shop is a seasonal boutique that offers the latest in winter fashion while keeping function top of mind. You'll find everything from outerwear to base layers to accessories, gloves, mitts and more both in store and on their website at uptopshop.ca. (16700 Yonge St.)

HAPPY TRAILS

Ready to explore area trails but not sure where to start?
Read on for some popular options

BY JENNIFER BRIEN

Nokiidaa Trail

Where to access it: Aurora, Newmarket and East Gwillimbury.

This 20-kilometre (km) trail connects Aurora, Newmarket and East Gwillimbury and incorporates Newmarket's popular Tom Taylor trail and Fairy Lake Park. There are several access points with many other local trail connections. Much of this trail is paved, smooth gravel or boardwalks.

Look for the landmarks: You'll find a series of carved, wooden totems at one-kilometre intervals as you make your way through the connected trails. Nearby signage provides the meaning and symbolism of these beautiful trail markers.

Thornton Bales Conservation Area

Where to access it: Just west of Bathurst St. and Mulock Dr. on 19th Sideroad.

Located along the green belt and part of the Oak Ridges Moraine, Thornton-Bales aka "99 Steps" offers challenging terrain and is famous for its steep slopes and rugged beauty. Heads up: parking is limited (only eight spots) and on street parking on 19th Sideroad is prohibited and enforced.

Seeking something a little less challenging? An accessible trail entrance leads to a new lookout a short distance away, putting the forest canopy at eye levels for all ages and abilities.

Dave Kerwin Trail & Peggy's Wood Trail

Where to access it: Woodspring Ave. in Newmarket or Gilpin Drive north of Bonshaw in East Gwillimbury.

These two trails connect for a 3.7 km route through the forest. Located on the west side of Newmarket and East Gwillimbury, this scenic trail runs between Davis Drive and Green Lane. The main trail is perfect for young families and there is a playground along the route.

Sharing Traditions

Everyone seems to have at least one—a tried and true tradition celebrated over the years. We asked a handful of Newmarket folks for their winter favourites, and go-tos for great shopping and dining. Here's what they had to say.

GABBY DALEMAN

Olympic Gold Medalist Figure Skater, Two-time Canadian Champion

Celebrating With Family

"Our winter traditions surround the holidays," says Gabby. "On Christmas Eve we watch favourite movies (the same ones every year), wrap presents and play euchre." The Daleman crew is a busy bunch (both Gabby and her younger brother Zachary, a pairs skater, are training for Nationals in January), and the holidays offer opportunity to unwind and connect with both immediate and extended family. "We take the couple of days to relax and have fun," she says. "It's just spending time together because everyone's schedule is always so busy. It's organized chaos and it's so wonderful to have everyone together."

Favourite place to dine: Made in Mexico

WASIM JARRAH

Business Owner, Concierge Real Estate by Wasim

Celebrating the Season

You won't find Wasim complaining about the cold or the snow. "I love winter," he says. "I'm that person!" That means enjoying all the season has to offer.

Each year, the busy Jarrah family sets aside a couple of days to visit Blue Mountain—a picturesque resort located on the shores of Georgian Bay. The resort offers a variety of fun winter activities for the whole family, including skiing, skating, and tobogganing. The grownups are particularly fond of the Village which has a great European vibe, says Wasim.

Dining at the restaurants and occasional visits to the spa also add to the trip. For Wasim, the trip provides an opportunity to unwind, unplug (as much as possible) and spend time outdoors. "Sitting beside an outdoor fire with the sound of wood crackling... that's a total pleasure."

Where Wasim likes to shop:

"I love the gifts from For All Occasions in Newmarket. They have access to many unique gifts and can customize almost anything for any person. It also helps that Anita is such a wonderful community person."

ANDREA MCMULLEN

Principal Designer and Owner, ADM Design Inc.

Christmas at Home and Work

Christmas comes early to ADM's two retail locations (you'll find the second at Friday Harbour Resort in Innisfil). "We go full-on Christmas right after Thanksgiving," says Andrea. "Every year I fully decorate, and we often decorate a home for the Pickering College Holiday Home Tour (see page 5 for more).

Along with doing a big festive staff event every year right before the holidays, there are a lot of traditions at home too. "I always let my kids pick one gift to open from under the tree on Christmas Eve," says Andrea, noting traditions have evolved as they've gotten older.

"Now that they are in their twenties, I have to wait up really late until they all go to bed, but I still leave their stocking at the end of their bed." Like many families, meals are an important holiday tradition. "We have a special breakfast together (a Christmas morning casserole, kind of like breakfast lasagna with layers of bread, peameal bacon, cheese), and we talk about all the things we are grateful for."

Favourite places to dine:

"Hungry Brew Hops, Goulash House and Souppa are just a few of my favourite spots downtown. Another place I love is the Molisana Bakery."

Sharing Traditions

Publicist, Darlene Morrison PR
Actor, The Haunted Museum on Discovery Plus

Cheese Buns!

Sometimes, the best traditions are also the most unique. That's certainly the case for Ashleigh, Darlene and the rest of their family. Every Christmas morning, Darlene bakes up cheese buns, a family favourite that dates back to her husband's childhood. "It's a secret family recipe passed down from my mother-in-law," says Darlene. "It's not the healthiest but it's yummy!" The stars of the dish? Bacon and Cheese Whiz. "It's weird but it's so good," says Ashleigh.

Where they like to shop and dine:

Both Darlene and Ashleigh like Neon Flamingo Emporium and Café. When it comes to places to eat, Ashleigh is a big fan of Ground Burger Bar and Bene Bene Waffle and Ice-cream.

TRACY MUNUSAMI

CEO, Newmarket Public Library

Friendly Family Competition

When you have a big family, coordinating schedules for get-togethers gets more challenging with each passing year. It's worth the effort, says Tracy, adding early December is typically the sweet spot. In recent years, the family has introduced a new element—creating gingerbread houses together. "Over time it has evolved into competitive gingerbread house building—it's a lot of fun."

Tracy's shopping pick:

"Metropolis has a neat collection of items from jewellery to puzzles, to kitchen and bar accessories. It's a cool vibe, and their collection is diverse enough to check off multiple people on your shopping list. A bonus is that you can get a coffee and cinnamon bun to go once you're done shopping!"

STEVE FOGLIA

Accessibility Advocate, Chairperson of the Accessibility Advisory Committee for the Town of Newmarket

Family and Food

For a lot of people, holidays and food go hand in hand. That's certainly the case for the Foglia family. "One of our family's favourite things to do is dine out especially during our favourite holiday time, Christmas," says Steve.

Conveniently, all their go-to places are located close to one another. "Main St offers some wonderful dining locations like Joia on Main, Cachet Supper Club and the Hungry Brew Hops just to name a few that, as a wheelchair user, are fully accessible to me." As great as the food is, it's not the only draw, he says. "It's wonderful seeing all the beautiful Christmas decorations and lights on Main St and Riverwalk Commons. It really helps one get into the spirit of the Christmas season."

JERISHA GRANT-HALL

Chair, Newmarket African Caribbean Canadian Association (NACCA)

Trimming the Tree

There's something magical about a Christmas tree and when it comes to traditions, decorating one with her children is a favourite for Jerisha. "Ever since my childhood, the Christmas tree has always been a personal symbol of joy, festivity, and family. Besides being born close to Christmas, it's the reason I look forward to winter the most; and now, with children of my own, it's a special time we spend together, decorating and sharing stories and laughter."

Favourite places to dine:
A Taste of the Islands, Irie Bistro and Cachet Supper Club

AMY MANNING AND GABIE ROSS

Owners, Gabie's Boutique

Family Fun

Christmas traditions are cherished by the mother-daughter duo behind Gabie's Boutique. "We love bundling up and taking the kids out to see the lights, says Amy. "It's always so fun to see all the different displays, enjoy the winter weather and time with the family."

For Gabie, Christmas Eve is always special, and the occasion is marked with new pajamas and getting the family together. "Everyone brings something tasty to eat and drink. It's about laughing, sharing stories, and taking the time to enjoy the holiday and family after all the hustle and bustle of preparing."

Favourite shopping destinations:

"One of my favorite places to find unique gifts is Wild Birds Unlimited," says Gabie. "I enjoy gardening and the outdoors and having colourful birds being attracted to the backyard is one of my favorite things throughout the year. I have gifted many a unique bird seed creature from their store to friends and family throughout the years! It's a twofold way of giving."

For Amy, picking one store just isn't possible. "I love walking down Main Street as they have so many great shops to check off all the people on my Christmas list; Knappett Jewellers, Neon Flamingo Emporium & Café, and Good Vibes on Main always have so many great items."

JANICE JIANG AND JOSEPH ZHANG

Owners, The Fresh Tea Shop

Good Snow

For Janice and Joseph, the first 15 days of the New Year, specifically the Lunar New Year, mark an important time. "In our culture, it's when we go to the temple to pray," says Joseph, adding the most ideal time is the first day of the New Year.

Prayers are centred around the year ahead, and include things like good health, safety, and fortune for loved ones. The weather—snow in particular—is also important, says Janice. "We pray for timely and heavy snow so next year the land will be rich, and we'll have a good harvest in fall," she says. The visit is followed up with a special vegetarian meal with the whole family.

The pair are excited about the start of a new tradition at The Fresh Tea Shop; they've teamed up with the Newmarket-Aurora Kings Knight Canada Chess Club to launch the shop's first annual chess tournament. It's for everyone from kids to grandparents, says Janice. Look for details on their social media channels.

Janice and Joe's pick:

"Sushi Jun is a must-have during the holidays. We love it because the food is always high quality and fresh."

Sharing Traditions

JACKIE PLAYTER

Long-time Newmarket resident

Main Street Love

For Jackie, Christmas is a beloved time of year. “I love it because everything looks so beautiful with all the lights and decorations, especially when we have a big snow fall,” she says. Her favourite tradition? The Candlelight Parade and Tree Lighting Ceremony. “I love to see all the people parading up Main St. following the town band. It’s such a wonderful evening with parents, children and older adults all participating. It gives me goosebumps.”

Jackie’s shopping pick:

When it comes to shops, Jackie has a lot of favourites but one has stood the test of time: Robin’s IDA Pharmacy. “They have great Christmas presents—I have been shopping there for over 53 years!”

RABBI MENDY GROSSBAUM

Chabad Newmarket, Director

Welcoming Light

For Rabbi Grossbaum, Chanukah—the Jewish Festival of Lights—is a time of cherished traditions which includes kindling the Menorah with his wife and children. Another holiday highlight is the annual Grand Chanukah Festival which takes place at Riverwalk Commons.

“We join together as a community to launch the Chanukah festivities and light the 12-foot Menorah bringing lots of light and warmth into the winter night. It’s a special time and we enjoy spending it both with family and community.”

Chanukah commemorates an ancient miracle, but its message is timely and reassuring, as “the forces of darkness are ever present,” he says. “The danger does not come exclusively from outside; it often lurks close to home, in the form of insidious erosion of time-honored values and principles that are at the foundation of any decent human society.” Darkness, he says, isn’t chased away by brooms and sticks, but by illumination. “Our Sages said, ‘A little light expels a lot of darkness.’”

A shopping favourite: “Hempen Jewellers on Main Street has a beautiful variety of fine jewellery in varying price ranges.”

WINTER GREENERY

“Spruce” Up Your Decor

Winter greenery is a fast and fresh way to introduce cool but cozy vibes into a space. We turned to Alicia and Cory Cross, the talented team behind Kith Flower and Gift Shop for some options. (You'll find everything mentioned here in store!)

→ Mini Spruce Trees: These pretty little trees add a festive feel without taking up a lot of precious real estate. Bonus: you can plant them outdoors come the spring.

← Fresh Evergreen Garland: Few scents smell as wintry as fresh evergreen. Use garland to dress up doors, adorn the mantel and wrap staircases. Add a fresh wreath to welcome friends at the front door. “Our signature and most popular garland and wreaths are made of a mixture of winter greens, including eucalyptus,” says Alicia.

→ Festive Plants: Lemon cypress trees, wintergreen plants and Christmas cacti perfectly capture the beauty of the season and add pretty pops of colour.

Tip: Cedar, pine and fir tend to last the longest—indoors about 2–3 weeks, says Cory Cross, Kith’s lead floral designer. “For looks and longevity, it is also great to include eucalyptus, rosehips (for a pop of red), and dried elements (like pinecones and cotton for a natural, decorated look).”

REMINDER: Got kids or pets? Do your research before bringing in greenery or plants to ensure they are non-toxic.
